

Florida, USA

Setting the scene

Our on-going technical development drive has now seen us move to launch our product across the US - with our UL, SRCC and Energystar accredited systems.

We have already made a substantial drive in and around New York and the surrounding states.

To push this further we sent our team out to Florida with our latest distribution partner, Weir Moore.

The team spent a week working with Weir Moore to educate the market as well as overseeing the first installation in the southern state.

Florida now has SAHP coverage from Jacksonville in the north down to Miami with a number of units installed, delivering efficient and cost-effective water heating.
