Setting the scene

With more developers looking at ways to improve the efficiency ratings of their projects, we have recently finished on a local site that has seen our SAHP 130 and 200s paired up with IR panels to offer a complete solution.

SAHP were on-site at an early stage in the project to oversee the installation of refrigeration pipe work ahead of the tanks themselves being installed. This has seen 24 panels installed on the roof, along with a further 10 installed in the ground floor carport, highlighting the flexibility of our evaporator panels with all weather conditions having a positive effect on the system efficiency.
